

METHODS AND APPARATUS FOR INSPECTING
COMPONENTS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method for inspecting a component. The method includes coupling the component to a fixture such that the component is fixedly secured in position during machining of the component, and inspecting the component using an inspection tool while the component is coupled to the fixture.